TURNBULL REPLIES TO CANNON LETTER

Congressional Candidate States Position on Liquor Question.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Lawrenceville, Va., January 6.—Replying to the recent letter sent by Rev. James Cannon to the four congressional candidates in this district concerning their respective attitudes on the liquor question and toward any future legislation that may be proposed, R. Turnbull, of this city, one of the candidates, states that absence from home had prevented an earlier answer, and continuing he says in a letter addressed to Mr. Cannon:

"I have always made it a rule to be frank in reference to all matters upon which I am expected to act, and shall state my position in this instance regardless of consequences.

"I believe that my position upon the liquor question is known to the people of the district, because, as shown by the debates in the Constitutional Convention, I have always been opposed to barrooms in country districts without police protection, unless a majority of the people of the district desired them. In other words, I have favored, and now favor, the 'local option' principle. I have opposed the establishment of barrooms in my county, and it has been dry for twenty years, and I believe that the great good to the people of the county has resulted therefrom.

"As to your first question, I will say that I have not had the opportunity to carefully consider the matter, and cannot do so now, but if I should be honored by the people of the district and selected as their representative in Congress, I shall carefully consider the matter in all its phases, and do what I believe to be best for the welfare of my people. Whether a law preventing the shipment of intoxicating liquors into dry territory is constitutional or not, I am not now prepared to say, but as at present advised I doubt the wisdom of such a law because I believe it would have a tendency to cause the 'local option' principle to be abandoned, and we would be in a worse position than now.

"In reply to your second question, I will say that I certainly favor the enactment of a law forbidding the granting of receipts by the United States government to all intoxicating liquors in dry territory.

"As to your third question, I will say that I am in favor of a law giving to the majority of the people of the District of Columbia the right to say whether intoxicating liquors should be sold in the District or not."

WILL MERGE TWO BODIES.

Hotel Men of Virginia and North Carolina to Have One Organization.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Norfolk, Va., January 6.—The Virginia and North Carolina hotel men enjoyed themselves in rounds of pleasure during the final day of their stay in Norfolk, and that little business was transacted in a few minutes.

Last night the visitors enjoyed an oyster roast at the Hampton Roads Yacht Club, and the North Carolina association pausing long enough to elect the following officers for the next term: President, B. H. Griffin, of Goldsboro; Vice-President, C. H. Green, of Durham; Secretary, J. B. Proctor, of High Point; Secretary-treasurer, Board of governors—W. F. Clegg, Greensboro; J. E. Kanaugh, Winston-Salem; R. E. Crawford, Wilson; Marion Cobb, Greensboro; and C. E. Hooper, Charlotte. Both the North Carolina and Virginia associations will meet in Greensboro, N. C., in the summer, at which time the report of the committee on the proposed consolidation of the two bodies will be submitted. There is no doubt, of this consolidation being perfected at that meeting, and only the details are to be arranged by the committee.

To-day the two associations visited Newport News, the shipbuilding yard, Hampton Institute, the Soldiers' Home, Old Point Comfort and Fort Monroe.

BANK DIRECTORS SUE.

Effort to Hold Them Responsible for Shortage in Funds.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Bureau Mills, Va., January 6.—The receivers of the Charlotte Banking and Insurance Company are now sending out checks to the depositors of the bank for a 10 per cent. dividend. This makes 20 per cent. dividend paid to the depositors. Attorneys for the receivers have instituted a number of suits, among which are suits against the directors of the bank, attempting to make them liable for the shortage of the bank. Upon the result of these suits will depend the final amount recovered from the wreckage of the institution. A number of the depositors have individual suits pending.

News Notes of Virginia

Bristol, Va.—The Bristol Masonic lodge are preparing to erect a new temple to cost $20,000 on their lot just east of the Norfolk and Western and Southern freight depot, and facing on State Street. This is one of the best lots in the city, and that it would make a most desirable location for such a building is admitted.

Portsmouth, Va.—The battleship Georgia, which has been in drydock, having repaired the damages inflicted during a collision with the Vestal, sailed from the navy yard this morning. The ship will join the fleet now at New York and preparing to sail South to-day.

Harrisonburg, Va.—Daniel Houck, of the real estate department of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, and E. P. Bowman, of the engineering department of the same road, left here yesterday afternoon, after spending twenty-four hours in town, taking options on real estate, the acquisition of which by the Baltimore and Ohio is necessary in order that that road may be able to construct the new Corporation Commission requiring the erection of a new and enlarged passenger station at Harrisonburg. The desired options were obtained.

Charlottesville, Va.—Mrs. Bittler, wife of Commander R. O. Bittler, U. S. Navy, while driving a horse to the university, was thrown from her buggy and painfully bruised and cut about the face and back. The animal became nervous on the icy road and running away. Commander Bittler is in command of the U. S. S. Helena, at present at Shanghai, China.

Roanoke, Va.—Michael Moulfais, who was found guilty of the murder of Stamboulis by the grand jury yesterday, was released to-day. He stated that he was going to his uncle, Dimos Balhas, in Asheville, N. C. While he does not fear that any of the Greeks will take revenge on him for killing Stamboulis, he knows there is considerable feeling among some of them that he went unpunished, and thinks it best to leave Roanoke.

Newport News, Va.—John B. Kimberley was yesterday nominated as postmaster at Old Point for a term of four years from the first day of February. The nomination of Mr. Kimberley was sent to the Senate by President Taft, and Mr. Kimberley has served three terms as postmaster at Fort Monroe, and his new appointment will mean that he will hold the office until February, 1914.

Berryville, Va.—The Courier has received the positive assurance from the high officials of the Norfolk and Western Railway Company that the promised new depot for Berryville will be constructed this year. The new station will be constructed on the lead-Cornick land lying south of the turnpike. It will be equipped with steam heat and electric lights, and all the latest conveniences devised by experts for the care and comfort of passengers, baggage, express and freight.

Norfolk, Va.—Grave fears are felt for the safety of the immense schooner Wyoming, the six-master that sailed from Bath, Me., on December 21, for Newport News, as a trip of the days ordinarily, and her long absence and the fact that she has not been reported by masters arriving at coast wharves has become a matter of concern. The schooner was launched at Bath on December 15, and is the largest sailing craft in the world. She was recommended by Captain Angus McLeod, of West Somerville, Me. This was her maiden voyage, and the fact that she sailed light is regarded as a great disadvantage.

Charlottesville, Va.—The appointment of Dr. W. A. Lambeth, of the University of Virginia, to the committee of seven to revise the game of football has met with the approval of the entire South. Dr. Lambeth is a native of the South, and heart, and it is believed that he will be of great assistance in abolishing the rough parts of the game. Already it has been suggested that the game be divided into four quarters: that the flying or running tackle be done away with, and that on the forward pass the ball should be the property of the man who secured it, without regard to the ball hitting the ground before an offensive player touches it.

Lynchburg, Va.—Two hundred feet of the burned portion of the Southern Railway in River View, near the city, and a force of 150 men is engaged night and day in hurrying this part of the Southern's new line through the city. In order that the system may have the benefit of this "cut-off" at the earliest possible date. About half of the part of the tunnel that was burned out has been restored, and the other is being pushed as fast as a large force of men can work.

Will Soon Build to Bluefield. Purchases of Coal Lands.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Roanoke, Va., January 6.—E. W. Mollahan, of Washington, D. C., who was at Bluefield last night, said he had received information in New York City on Monday from a director of one of New York's largest trust companies, which is closely allied with Virginia railway interests, which enabled him to say positively that the Virginian Railway will build to Bluefield.

Mr. Mollahan said that he could not give any information as to when the road would come, but judged that the time is not far off. He could not say anything about what route would be adopted, but intimated that the Virginian interests have acquired property in this section which they feel they can develop, and greatly profit their own railroad.

It was also learned that several large purchases of coal lands in Southwest Virginia have been successfully carried through. A man who is in a position to know said that J. P. Morgan interests have purchased the Big Axe Coal and Iron Company, which has 17,800 acres; the Clinch Coal and Iron Company, 6,300 acres; the Buckhorn Iron and Improvement Company, with 8,300 acres, as well as 1,300 acres which were secured from H. C. Stuart. In addition to this, it is said that W. L. Dennis, who had options on about 70,000 acres in Buchanan county, has nearly closed the deal whereby that property has been transferred to the same interests.

PRETTY WEDDING IS CELEBRATED

Miss Ethel Francis Becomes Bride of Dr. Burke.

ADDRESSES ON MISSIONS

No Sales of Tobacco at Warehouse During Week.

Times-Dispatch Bureau, 100 North Sycamore St., Petersburg, Va., January 6.

A fashionable assemblage filed St. Joseph's Catholic Church at noon today to witness the marriage of Miss Ethel M. Francis to Dr. Hampden Aulick Burke. The wedding was a very beautiful and perfectly ordered event, and one of great public interest. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Father Thomas J. O'Farrell, pastor of the church. The bride was handsomely gowned in point venise, built on charm and chignon, embroidered in pearls. She wore a tulle veil with real lace, caught with nature orange blossoms, and carried a shower bouquet of lilacs of the valley and white roses. She was attended as her bridesmaids by her sister, Miss Lucille Francis, and Miss Madeline Burke, sister of the bridegroom, each wearing pink chiffon trimmed in Val. with pink baby hats and carrying baskets of pink sweets. The bridegroom's attendant as best man was his brother, Antonio A. Burke, and the ushers were: Robert J. Francis, brother of the bride; John M. Hanahan, Dr. Burr Lawrence, James Young, Edwin Clement, and Clarence D. Altom of Petersburg; Robert Nelligan, of Washington, D. C. and Dr. P. St. Ledger Moncre, of Norfolk. A number of outside guests were present. A very largely attended reception in honor of the bride and groom was given last night at the residence of the bride, on Jefferson Street. The home was beautifully illuminated and decorated, the drawing-room and dining apartments in pink, and the hall and the library with red American Beauty and La France roses. The wedding trip will embrace many of the scenic beauties of the South. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas J. Francis, and is a beautiful, attractive and popular young woman. The bridegroom is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Burke, and is a prominent member of the Petersburg medical faculty. The bride was a resident of a great number of valuable presents. Guests were present from Richmond, Norfolk, Washington, Baltimore and New York.

No Sales This Week.

There were no sales of tobacco at the warehouses this week. The country people have not yet finished their holiday season, and the weather has prevented the bringing of produce to markets. Next week may witness a better condition of affairs.

Personal and Otherwise.

Miss Julia Emory, of New York, secretary of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Episcopal Church, and Mrs. John Letcher, of Norfolk, secretary of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Diocese of Southern Virginia, delivered addresses on Sunday in Grace Church to-day.

Early this morning a horse belonging to an employee of the Central State Hospital, while being driven on Dunlop Street, was killed by coming in contact with a low hanging live wire, which had been broken by the street.
